

Focus: Health Information Management

Office of Academic Affairs Career Conversation Series

Reeham Neshiwat, is a Certified Billing and Coding Specialist, Certified Professional Electronic Health Medical Records and Billing and Coding Trainer, Certified Healthcare Instructor, Certified Personal Trainer and Certified Electronic Technician.

Reeham serves as an adjunct professor in the School of Allied Health at The College of Westchester. She is also an Instructor at St. John's Riverside Hospital Health Education Institute.

Reeham is the owner and Chief Executive Officer of Westchester Medical Coder, Inc., providing billing, coding and reimbursement services to healthcare facilities and practitioners throughout Westchester County. Her company is recognized and approved as a training and examining site for the National Health Association.

In 2010, Reeham was recognized by Cambridge Who's Who for demonstrating dedication, leadership and excellence in medical coding, billing and training.